

Establishing value
Securing access
Accelerating uptake

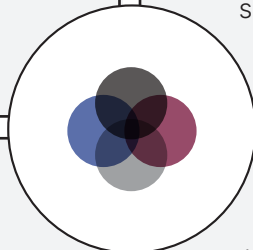

Petauri is a purpose-built pharmaceutical services platform with global reach. We collaborate with pharmaceutical and life sciences clients to enhance patient outcomes by establishing the scientific, economic, humanistic, and societal value of medical advancements. From strategy to implementation, we support clients with a wide range of innovative solutions that speed patient access to life-changing care.

The Kinetix Group

The Kinetix Group is an award-winning, full-service market access agency providing innovative client solutions to market challenges for nearly 25 years. Grounded in the voice of the customer, TKG empowers life sciences companies to effectively engage with health system and payer customers. We position client products for commercialization excellence throughout the care delivery continuum, from pre-launch market shaping through HCP pull-through. Our Networks of Excellence are novel industry partnerships that accelerate care pathway adoption and provide actionable market access insights.

Petauri Advisors

Petauri Advisors is a premier global strategic pricing and market access consultancy. Through our in-depth knowledge of the evolving global payer landscape, we partner with our pharmaceutical and biotech clients to develop evidence-based value propositions supporting brand launch and life cycle performance. Comprising industry veterans from life sciences, payers, and consultancies, we deploy issue-based problem solving to assess and define strategic solutions, ensuring our clients' success.

FORCE Communications

FORCE Communications is a full-service medical communications agency with over 20 years of experience turning complex science into strategic HCP education. Through KOL optimization and innovative programming, we leverage advanced scientific content to create inspiring educational experiences that activate HCPs. Straddling the space between medical affairs and marketing, we partner with our pharmaceutical, biotech, and medical device clients to change treatment paradigms and improve patients' lives.

Petauri Evidence

Petauri Evidence is a best-in-class health economics & outcomes research consultancy, partnering with biopharmaceutical companies from early pipeline evidence planning through post-launch evidence generation. With scientific rigor and commercial acuity, we transcend traditional boundaries in evidence generation and value strategy to drive meaningful patient access and impact. Our deep experience across the industry positions us to best define evidence needs and the strategies to achieve success in life science innovation.
